

Short Bio:

Trevor Ives, CA, CPA

Title: CEO

Company: Peter Ballantyne Group of Companies

Trevor has over 25 years of experience and achievement in Aboriginal Business and Corporate Development. Trevor received his Bachelor of Commerce with distinction from the University of Saskatchewan and his Chartered Accountant designation in Calgary where he articulated with the firm Deloitte, Haskins and Sells. He returned home to Saskatchewan in 1993 where he has dedicated his career to First Nations business development corporations. As CEO for the Peter Ballantyne Group of Companies, Trevor has spent the last 20 years developing a diversified business base for the First Nation that boasts 3 retail Petro-Canada sites, 5 Super 8 franchise locations, a Tim Hortons franchise and many other operating businesses in the manufacturing, retail, service, property development and forestry industries. Trevor has led the development and business expansion through a series of green field developments, acquisitions and partnerships. Trevor remains active on many corporate Boards using his experience and professionalism to help guide these corporations to success.

Trevor continues to spend a significant amount of time on volunteering within the community, acting both as a Director and a volunteer for many local organizations.

Trevor lives in Prince Albert with his wife Shauna and 2 children. The family are all avid Saskatchewan Roughrider fans and enjoy the opportunity to travel whenever possible.
